LOCAL NEWS

It isn't, I think, an easy job. To smile when things go wrong. But then it isn't the easy job. That makes a body strong.

Mr. and Mrs. Doc Kegley were in Portsmouth, Ohio, yesterday.

E. Z. Mattingly is still confined to his bed and about the same as last week.

Basil Dyes of Pomeroy was a business visitor at the County Seat yesterday.

Mrs. Noah Elam Jr. and children spent the week end here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Wells.

W. D. Reed is leaving today for Central City where he works for a company in putting down an oil well.

Miss Edna Davis of Jones Creek is spending the week here with her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Davis.

Dr. H. H. Murray took Harlan Johnson of Long Branch to Mt. Sterling yesterday for an appendicitis operation.

Mrs. Dorothy Mattingly and daughter, Kay, of Butler, Ohio, are here visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Turner.

Henry Cole, whose cough has been quite severe during our changeable weather, welcomes these fine sunshiny days.

Hubert Lykins of this place and his cousin, Forest Orney, of Wayland, are visiting relatives in the northern part of Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Blair were in Sandy Hook over Sunday visiting Mrs. Blair's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Prichard.

We are glad to tell the many friends of Mrs. W. L. Carpenter that she is steadily and rapidly convalescing. She is now into a chair again each day.

Mr. and Mrs. Bennie Lykins of West Liberty were the guests Sunday and Sunday night of Mr. Lykins' sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Bal Whitt of Royton.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lykins of Dayton, Ohio, are visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bennie Lykins of West Liberty and Mr. and Mrs. Sanford Lykins of Royton.

Mrs. D. N. Haney, Mrs. Miles H. Ferguson, and Shirley Haney of Malone went to Cynthiana Thursday to attend the funeral of Mrs. Haney's brother, J. Lewis Haney.

Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Hastings of Neon stopped Sunday afternoon and visited a while with their friends Rev. and Mrs. Garrett, and then went on to Winchester to visit other friends.

Rev. and Mrs. W. W. Garrett returned Saturday from a week with Mr. Garrett's parents, Rev. and Mrs. W. B. Garrett at Louisville. They left Mrs. Garrett, who is quite ill, slightly improved.

Chap Bayes of Lyndon, Washington, and Miss Eileen Bayes of Ashmore, Illinois, are visiting their nieces, Mrs. Henry Wheeler of Flatwoods and Mrs. C. P. Henry of South Water Street.

L. B. Wells took Jim Adkins to the Veteran Hospital at Lexington yesterday. Mr. Adkins had been here in the hospital for some time with a crushed foot. He had been home the past few weeks, but his foot, while better, has not healed.

Mr. and Mrs. John Wilson of Lexington and children are visiting Mrs. Wilson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. N. Trimble at Wrigley. Mr. Trimble who is quite sick is a little better. The Wilsons are spending the week end here with Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Blair.

Jimmie Harper, Wendell Nickell, Delbert Price, Mrs. D. H. Keeton, Misses Viva Bowles, Lena McClure, Nell Tsulice, Mildred Whist, and Helen Stacy attended the Wesleyan-Center basketball games at Winchester Saturday night. Wesleyan won both games.

CALLING A BLUFF

The Floyd County Times in its last issue offers to print the financial statement of the city of Prestonsburg for the year 1937 entirely without charge, provided the audit is submitted within two weeks.

The Times has been persuaded to make this proposition in response to requests of taxpayers who feel that the claim of the City Council that they are not laying an audit publication because of the cost.

The item of cost is always used by public officials where they are reminded of their duty in having a statement published.

The Courier has personal acquaintances with many newspaper men in the state. There are no more up-to-date men in the state, or out of office, than the newspaper men.

It is very seldom that the matter of cost is really a contributing factor in this neglect of official duty. It is used to bluff the newspaper man and to appeal to his selfish interests of taxpayers.

With what knowledge I have of newspaper men I am convinced that whenever the matter of cost is the deciding factor, that publication of these legal statements in the interest of the public could be secured from publishers on the same terms which the Floyd County Times offers. We do not expect the citizens of Prestonsburg to take advantage of the Times offer.

There is probably another reason aside from the expense cost of the advertising which keeps the taxpayer of Prestonsburg in the dark as to the acts of their City Council.

FINANCIAL PROSPECTS OF MORGAN COUNTY

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 5.—With a locally taxable assessed valuation of $3,600,000, and a tax rate of 70 cents, Morgan county expects to raise a 1937-38 budget of $28,402. The average county dollar will be derived from the several receipts sources approximately as follows: from general property taxes, 53 cents; from franchise company property taxes, 20 cents; from poll taxes, 9 cents; and from other sources (principally the state grant for roads), 18 cents.

Morgan county's budgeted expenditures for 1937-38 do not bear evidence of good management. Having one of the highest debt ratios per $100 taxable wealth of any county in the state, it might be expected to make large payments on debts and to exercise close economy in expenditures for other purposes.

The revenue is true. General administrative costs are higher in Morgan county than in most other counties having approximately equal tax bases, and than in many counties having more ample tax resources. It will spend less for debts than most counties less heavily burdened.

The average county dollar is budgeted for expenditure as follows: for general administration, 46 cents; for health and general welfare, 14 cents; for roads, 16 cents (all provided by the state); for debts, 22 cents; and for emergencies, 2 cents.

Morgan county has outstanding road and bridge bonds to the amount of $14,000, and a floating debt (including interest of $17.83 per capita or $7.18 per $100 taxable wealth). The present 20 cent sinking fund levy for the road and bridge bonds yields an amount barely sufficient to pay interest charges. No provision is made in the budget for meeting $5,000 in principal due on these bonds during the current year. The amount appropriated for application against the large floating debt is as small as to be almost negligible.

JAMES W. MARTIN, Commissioner of Revenue.

Miss Yandal Wrather is able to take out a little in the car.

Mrs. Crystal Howard and Henry Stacy were in Lexington Sunday.

Mrs. Stanley Blair who has been ill for several days is able to be up again.

Mrs. S. D. Gullett and Misses Florence and Josephine McGuire spent yesterday in Malone with Mr. and Mrs. I. S. Williams.

The P. T. A. is offering a prize of five dollars to the room that has the most parents out for the meeting Monday, February 14. As a second prize, Mr. Jay Burton is offering a free show.

Disarm the Nursery

She bought a toy revolver. The first to the store. And ordered it delivered with promptness at her door. Wrapped in fancy paper. She ordered it should be said and sent me to put on Bobbie's Christmas tree.

A symbol of destruction. Of hatred, war and strife. A thing designed to destroy and perd human life. Foreshadowing of terror. And wrong in does to be how strange a thing to offer Upon a Christmas Tree.

—LAURENCE E. FLYNN

War is the greatest evil of our times. The war idea is spread among our children through war toys and games and through moving pictures that make war a glorious and gallant adventure. Shall we allow the sensitive imaginations of our children to be dulled and numbed by the shocking war scenes from continental sources? For the profit of individuals, war is more often than not a money-making, money-distributing, money-making, money-distributing in the corners of the earth. We are trying to overcome in the adult world. These brothers are charged. Their children will be hurt more tomorrow.

If we believe in honesty and truth, we do not encourage our children to play games that glorify stealing and lying. If we believe in peace, why do we encourage our children to play games that glorify war?

At a recent convention of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers it was voted overruling by substituting new one. "Safe Games and Toys." One organization opposed. A Kodak for the best essay on "How Smoking Games Lead to Trouble."

"Other schools wrote compositions on such subjects as "Safe Substitutes for Toy Weapons" and "The BB Gun and What It Did."

Substitutes for toy weapons are many and readily accessible. Among those are outdoor activity sports such as ball games, bowling games, roller skating, ice skating, sleds and marshmallow sticks and marshmallow sticks and sticks with the names which goes far away. The bunch has got a swing and which we feel is heaven's game.

This should be evidence.

Good Turn is a movement by Scout out which resulted in bringing the Scouting idea to America over 20 years ago. The Good Turn took place in London when an unknown English lad helped an American lad in a shop to discover an address. When the boy refused the customary tip for his services with the statement, "Scouts don't take money for Good Turns," surprised American, Mr. W. D. Boyce of Chicago decided to investigate further with the result that he met Lord Baden-Powell, Chief Scout of the World. As an outcome of this meeting Boyce brought back the name which was developed with many changes into the program of the Boy Scouts of America January 1, 1910, to Washington, D. C., and granted a Federal Charter by Congress on June 21, 1910.

Since January 28, 1910, over more than 7,000,000 boys and girls from all over the world have joined the organization.

Today there are 1,000,000 members.

The plan conflicts with the Kentucky statutes prohibiting rebates, special benefits or benefit advantages he ruled.

LADIES AID MEETING

Cannel City, Ky.—The Ladies Aid Society of Cannel City Union Church met with Mrs. Dorsey Peyton February 3. Members present were Mrs. W. T. Stamper, Mrs. A. A. Carter, Mrs. Inez Donovan, Mrs. Press Sebastian, Mrs. Dorsey Peyton, Mrs. Lee Peyton, Mrs. Clyde Wells, Mrs. Corbett Terrell, Misses Sallie Minor, Thelma Benton, Alene Zornes, William Faulkner, and one visitor, Master J. C. Sebastian. In the absence of the president, Mrs. W. T. Stamper took charge of the meeting. Two hymns were sung: "We Thank Thee O Lord" and "Jesus Is All the World to Me." Mrs. Peyton read as the devotional Psalm 1. All repeated the Lord's Prayer. Mrs. Peyton and Miss Zornes sang a special, "I Will Sing You a Song." After reading of the minutes and the roll call work was begun on the quilt and a good deal was done. During the social hour, the hostess, assisted by Misses Zornes, Lucy, Faulkner, and Spencer served delicious refreshments of jelly with marshmallow cream and sliced banana and grape juice and tea cakes after a very pleasant afternoon we adjourned to meet with Mrs. A. A. Carter February 17. S. C. MINOR, Secy.

Visiting Relatives Here

Morris Bailey of Lynn, Nebraska, is here visiting his uncle, Amos Day, and other relatives in the County. Mr. Bailey was born in Morgan County some twenty odd years ago and was here with his parents when about five years old but had not been here since that time. He had lately been in Chicago attending a course in linotype composition and operation.

Government Wins Anti-Trust Case . . . A. E. Morgan Opposes President's Plan for More TVA Set-Ups

Senator Allen J. Ellender of Louisiana is here seen in action as he established a record for long talking in the senate, at least in modern times. Enraged in the filibuster against the anti-lynching bill, this successor of Huey Long spoke for 27 hours and 45 minutes—and he confined himself strictly to his views on the measure.

"Guilty" Is Oil Verdict

UNCLE SAM won the long drawn out trial of oil concerns and their executives before Federal Judge Stone in Madison, Wis. Sixteen oil companies operating in 10 Middle West states and 30 individuals were found guilty of conspiring to violate the Sherman anti-trust law. Prominent among the men convicted are Henry M. Dawes of Pure Oil, E. G. Seubert of Standard Oil of Indiana, Jacob France of Mid-Continent Petroleum, L. A. Shaughnessy of Globe Oil and Refining, Dan Moran of Continental Oil and Frank Phillips of Phillips Petroleum.

Formal motion for a new trial was filed but will not be ruled on for several weeks. Probably the case will be taken to the Supreme court.

The defendants were accused of entering into a secret agreement to purchase quantities of oil from independent oil producers at artificially high prices. These prices were then quoted as the market price to jobbers, who had signed contracts with the defendants to purchase the fuel at the spot (or daily) market price.

The defense denied having artificially influenced the market and pleaded unsuccessfully that the companies merely bought distress gasoline to save the independent refiners from failure and did so in accordance with a policy approved by President Roosevelt and Interior Secretary Harold L. Ickes.

Huge Relief Expenditures

SOCIAL securities funds announced that government expenditures amount $3,165,317,000 for public relief in the first eleven months of 1937, a decline of $37,321,000 from the corresponding period of 1936.

Payments to relief recipients in November were $165,671,000, a drop of $3,000,000 from November, 1936, but $15,000,000 more than in December, 1937.

The figures include payments to recipients under all types of public assistance.

Morgan Hits Power Plan

A. RTHUR E. MORGAN, chairman of the Tennessee Valley authority, in secret testimony before the house rivers and harbors committee, disclosed his opposition to the President's program for the establishment on other watersheds of agencies patterned after the TVA. Water power development, he asserted, "has become an obsession with some men."

In place of the regional resources agencies proposed by Mr. Roosevelt, Morgan recommended that interstate water control districts be set up. "It would seem better," said he, "to deal with the ownership of remaining water power resources in separate legislation rather than to encumber general water control legislation with the problem, possibly with the result of defeating that more inclusive purpose."

"The part which water power development will play in a unified river control program is being greatly exaggerated in the public mind."

"No More Regulation Laws"

GEOGE H. DAVIS, president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, sent to the Senate unemployment committees a paper

Huge Loss Laid to C.I.O.
FROM the lips of Mayor J. K. Carson of Portland, Ore., the senate's joint committee on commerce and labor learned that the activities of the C. I. O. and Harry Bridges, its leader in that region, have cost the people there more than a billion dollars in the last three years. This was due to strikes and maritime thefts.

"Bridges cannot even vote in this country," said Mayor Carson, "yet he exercises more power over the maritime industry of the Pacific coast than all the ship owners and all the seamen combined."

Bridges, who comes from Australia, is not naturalized. He is a Communist and his deportation has been requested by the inspectors of the bureau of immigration and naturalization, but issuance of a warrant has been prevented by Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins.

Mayor Carson said the shipping and fruit industries of the West Coast had suffered not only because of maritime strikes but also because of tie-ups caused by the longshoremen's unions, which are controlled by Bridges.

"The fruit industry is endangered by the present attitude of maritime labor," Mayor Carson said. "The continued disruption of deliveries has resulted in a lack of confidence in our ability to fulfill orders, causing us to lose our European markets to Argentina and South Africa."

Every Tenth Worker Idle

STATISTICS released by Secretary of Labor Perkins showed that every tenth worker in the country is without employment. Her findings were disclosed as the senate unemployment and relief committee called state and local relief administrators to testify on increased demands for aid during the recession.

Approximately 1,162,000 persons passed at this session of congress no more laws for regulating business.

"The real cause of the present recession," said Davis, "is lack of confidence in the future, caused accumulatively by the passage of laws eliminating in the undistributed profits tax and the threat of wages and hours bill."

There is no question in the minds of business men, he said, that these steps would restore confidence.

1. Repeal of the undistributed profits tax.

2. A sharp modification in the amount of capital gains tax.

3. Liberalization of the security exchange and commodity exchange rates to provide more liquid markets.

4. Assurance that, at this session at least, there will be no additional laws passed further regulating business, such as the wage-hour bill.

Business at White House

FIFTY members of the business advisory council of the Department of Commerce, all of them leaders of the nation's business and industry, went to the White House for a long conference with the President, and told him what they believed to be responsible for the current "recession." Then they promised to cooperate with him in combating the slump on condition that he made clear the course he intends to follow.

The business men decided that necessities to aid in the struggle were limitations to wage-hour legislation, a truce with public utilities, general purge of holding companies and further tinkering with the currency.

To these suggestions Mr. Roosevelt yielded his approval. Others were heard by him without comment.

W. Averell Harriman, chairman, issued a statement which suggested their views of his colleagues and which was read to Mr. Roosevelt.

The statement said re-employment in private industry is the central problem now before the country.

We wish to record with you our faith in the efficacy of the principles of democracy, and yet we are concerned over the possible far-reaching effects of our present situation. The statement concluded:

"Our concern and understanding must be based on all actions and interests of the country."

At the conclusion of the conference the President announced that he will seek the formulation of a definite policy designed to end the depression and create a framework for steady functioning of a nation's economic life through the appointment of a group representative of all the interests within the country.

The group would consist of as many as twenty-five or as few as five or six persons, who would be charged with the task of sifting over all proposals to aid business and unearthing all conflicts existing among the various interests with a view toward perfecting an administrative and legislative policy for business.

Flying Cadets Needed

MORE aviation cadets are urgently wanted by the War department. It announced that 332 unfilled vacancies exist for the March flying cadet class at the air corps training center, Randolph Field, Texas. Only 112 qualified candidates thus far have been authorized out of the class' total of 244.

The War department ordered all regular officers in army posts to obtain blue dress uniforms before October 1. Officers buy their own outfit. The new uniforms cost about $125.

Pravda, the Communist party newspaper, indicated satisfaction with the results of the purge, but assailed "rotten leaders" who played into the enemy's hands. "Under the mask of false vigilance agents of Fascism sought to break up and cast out from the ranks our Bolshevik personnel," Pravda said.

William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, made it perfectly clear that he did not want the administration vested in any board that President Roosevelt might appoint. He left nothing to the imagination in stating his objections. He feared such a board might lean as strongly to John L. Lewis' C. I. O., as he contends the

Moreover, this came right on the heels of a lot of ugly whispers about the federal control of radio, a situation which resulted in the President taking Frank R. McHugh off the federal power commission and putting him in the federal communications commission to clean up.

It is also interesting because everyone in touch with the situation knew that the biggest stumbling block to passage of the wage-hour bill has been the difficulty in agreeing on who would administer the law. And despite the house committee action, this problem has not been solved.

William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, made it perfectly clear that he did not want the administration vested in any board that President Roosevelt might appoint. FARMERS' COLUMN

THE FARM AND HOME

During January the weather often helps to keep us in good condition. Soil does not freeze, and substances are used. Sun and clouds are excellent because they do not burn. Farmers should be called occasionally with water, water to the trees.

It is not necessary to keep an orchard all the time except at week or two times. First should be watched and if there is a tendency to break off in the cold air to save too long on the farm, the damage should be corrected as soon as possible.

Fruit trees are damaged when the blossoms of the winter come out. This may be due to conditions of soil from the first. After frost comes and destroys the fruit power of the trees.

Early frost is also and berries should start at least two months earlier, so that they will be in good condition. Farmers need 2 to 3 pounds of green beans, and cover 2 to 3 pounds, and good hay or other roughage.

Fruit trees cause many accidents. But no one along stands would have many falls. Likewise would care in use of stepladders and chairs and boxes in reaching high places. Shipping on wagons, boxes and other objects adds to the severity of the accident.

It is considered best to keep buildings tight in a room where the temperature is as near 50 to 60 degrees as possible. Temperature is low as freezing or heat at 60 may result in injury to the heating system.

FIRST LADY IN KENTUCKY

Outstanding programs, including three addresses to Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, featured the 26th annual Farm and Home Convention of the University of Kentucky. The first lady spoke at the session for farmers and at the session for homemakers, and at a general meeting at night. Mrs. Henry Morgenthau, wife of the secretary of the treasury, and Governor A. B. Chamberlain attended the convention.

Subjects receiving major attention at the convention included soil conservation, farm credit, cancer and other health problems, family financing, consumers' problems, rural electrification, the growing and selling of tobacco, farm youth, social security, hay and pasture crops, hybrid corn and farm management. Special sessions were held for rural mothers, poultry raisers, beekeepers, on rural electrification and on soils and crops.

An electric festival showing the wiring of houses and farm buildings, home electrical equipment and farm machinery and tools that can be operated by electricity was open throughout the week.

Other prominent men and women speakers included A. S. Goss, Federal Land Bank Commissioner; Chester C. Davis, member of the board of governors of the Federal Reserve System; H. R. Tolley, administrator of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration; Judge Camille Kelley of the Juvenile Court at Memphis, Tennessee; Mrs. Caroline B. King, Women's editor of "The Country Gentleman"; Gen. James A. Dean of the Social Security Administration; George D. Munges of the Rural Electrification Administration; President Frank L. McVey and Dean Thomas P. Cooper of the University of Kentucky; John C. Noland, president of the Kentucky Bankers Association; Mrs. Willie Snow Elbridge, Louisville, and Prof. Fannie Brooks, University of Illinois.

TREES MAKE SCREENS

Use of trees to create screens for undesirable buildings or lots on farms is suggested by Prof. N. R. Elliott, landscape specialist at the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture.

He would use large trees as background and for the framing of farm buildings. Such native trees in Kentucky are the elm, oak, tulip poplar, sycamore, ash and walnut. Those of the same growing trees around buildings often are easiest to saw up or knock down desirable for our use. Allow room for growth, saving them preferably 30 feet from buildings.

Medium-sized trees, such as red or sugar maple, may be used in place that is limited. They furnish additional screening. Other kinds in this group are pine, oak, sugar, oak, wild cherry, black locust and Kentucky coffee tree.

Small trees are usually best located in groups of two to five at a kind that is too degraded for use. Some may be set at 12 feet apart or form an attractive screen. Small trees furnish flowers, fragrance, Mr. Elliott pointed out, and are among the most useful plants. In addition to degraded and ruined the small tree screen provides red and white roses and service berries.

Another group of assets are the evergreens, whose delicate shade of green and trees and include the red spruce, hemlock and pine. However, Mr. Elliott suggests that evergreens be used occasionally with pattern work on the same materials.

It is not necessary to keep an orchard all the time except at week or two times. First should be watched and if there is a tendency to break off in the cold air to save too long on the farm, the damage should be corrected as soon as possible.

Fruit trees are damaged when the blossoms of the winter come out. This may be due to conditions of soil from the first. After frost comes and destroys the fruit power of the trees.

Early frost is also and berries should start at least two months earlier, so that they will be in good condition. Farmers need 2 to 3 pounds of green beans, and cover 2 to 3 pounds, and good hay or other roughage.

Fruit trees cause many accidents. But no one along stands would have many falls. Likewise would care in use of stepladders and chairs and boxes in reaching high places. Shipping on wagons, boxes and other objects adds to the severity of the accident.

It is considered best to keep buildings tight in a room where the temperature is as near 50 to 60 degrees as possible. Temperature is low as freezing or heat at 60 may result in injury to the heating system.

FIRST LADY IN KENTUCKY

Outstanding programs, including three addresses to Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, featured the 26th annual Farm and Home Convention of the University of Kentucky. The first lady spoke at the session for farmers and at the session for homemakers, and at a general meeting at night. Mrs. Henry Morgenthau, wife of the secretary of the treasury, and Governor A. B. Chamberlain attended the convention.

Subjects receiving major attention at the convention included soil conservation, farm credit, cancer and other health problems, family financing, consumers' problems, rural electrification, the growing and selling of tobacco, farm youth, social security, hay and pasture crops, hybrid corn and farm management. Special sessions were held for rural mothers, poultry raisers, beekeepers, on rural electrification and on soils and crops.

An electric festival showing the wiring of houses and farm buildings, home electrical equipment and farm machinery and tools that can be operated by electricity was open throughout the week.

Other prominent men and women speakers included A. S. Goss, Federal Land Bank Commissioner; Chester C. Davis, member of the board of governors of the Federal Reserve System; H. R. Tolley, administrator of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration; Judge Camille Kelley of the Juvenile Court at Memphis, Tennessee; Mrs. Caroline B. King, Women's editor of "The Country Gentleman"; Gen. James A. Dean of the Social Security Administration; George D. Munges of the Rural Electrification Administration; President Frank L. McVey and Dean Thomas P. Cooper of the University of Kentucky; John C. Noland, president of the Kentucky Bankers Association; Mrs. Willie Snow Elbridge, Louisville, and Prof. Fannie Brooks, University of Illinois.

TREES MAKE SCREENS

Use of trees to create screens for undesirable buildings or lots on farms is suggested by Prof. N. R. Elliott, landscape specialist at the University of Kentucky College of

VITUALS, GRUB AND FOOD

What we eat may not vary much in color or flavor, but it varies considerably in digestibility. It is a well-known fact that the very idea of eating is itself capable of many infections. Some eat to live, some to live to eat, but most of us have habits that lie between abstinence and gluttony. Similarly, we may not always eat in the same sphere. Sometimes we range from the super-satiated to the abstinent. I must tell you about these various levels of eating so that you may know where you are morally and otherwise.

Most words decreased from the Latin have a tendency to be digested if otherwise than with vitamins. It is easier to eat than to live. When you eat it, you recall certain family foods, foods associated with the old-fashioned country home, with its simple cooking methods and with plenty of home-cooked chickens running around in the front yard. Chicken and vegetables and bread taste better when you are surrounded with the taste of abundance rather than want. You are invited to "take tea and soup" yourself. No particular food can be the result of the taste of red meat, ham, bacon, sausages and the like. The Latin word for meat is caro.

HIGH SCHOOL OPERETTA

An operetta is a story carried out in speaking and singing. The most famous operetta composers were Gilbert and Sullivan. Englishmen who had high sense of humor, and insatiable originality. Gilbert was highly esteemed for his unique and entertaining usage of words, while Sullivan was considered a genius at composing music. The two men collaborated to write "Gilbert the words and Sullivan the music" the famous operetta "The Gondoliers," "Tha-tha-tha," "The Mikado," "Puff-Puff-Puff," and "Trial by Jury."

They also wrote "The Pirates of Penzance" which is being given by the West Liberty High School Thursday, February 11, in the high school auditorium. It is sincerely hoped that a large number will be there. The audience may be assured of an enjoyable entertainment, and will by coming out further the much neglected music and dramatic art of West Liberty. There is nothing risqué about the operetta, and is one that is given by professional performers.

Synopsis of "Pirates of Penzance"
ACT I (On the rocky shores of Cornwall).
Frederick, while a mere boy, was given by his proud father to the Fredeyck nursery, many miles away to see if that he became an apprentice to a pirate. Starting first to the old castle gate, he found his master had left. Some time later he reached the village town.

Iowa Girl Makes Good!

Joy Hodges, Universal movie star recently signed to play opposite George M. Cohan in the stage play, "I'd Rather Be Right," started her career in 1930 by winning the Iowa state soprano contest as a student at East Des Moines high school. Born Frances Elsie Hodges, she made her first public appearance at the age of six in a piano recital. After high school came Chautauqua circuit and radio appearances with such popular orchestras as Ozzie Nelson, Carol Burnett, Jimmie Grier and Dave Apperson. Right now Joy is engaged to Robert Wilcox, young actor from Rochester, N. Y. Wilcox met his fiancee in Hollywood, where he broke into movies after attending the University of Southern California. She claims to have become attracted to Wilcox when he appeared on a Des Moines screen.

1—It looks innocent enough, but this drab-looking attache is really a bag of tricks! Everything is under control in the above photo, but inside is the elaborate catalin mechanism shown below, providing compartments for gas, blank cartridges and other weapons that work automatically when the bag gets in the wrong hands. One firm claims to have reduced its insurance rates by adopting the bag for bank messengers.

2—At night you see the bag "in person," after being snatched from the hands of a bank messenger. This pulls a trigger which starts a mechanism setting off four shots spaced a second apart, which sound as if they come from a .45 caliber pistol. Taken by surprise when confronted with this devilish instrument, the bandit is always astonished, non-plussed and almost ready to drop the bag and run. The noise is attracting attention and a policeman is approaching at random from the nearby corner. The genius who invented this bag will certainly be unpopular with bandits.

3—Next surprise is a cloud of dense yellow, harmless smoke. So the thief, beaten, drops his belching loot and runs for dear life. It just isn't worth the effort!

MOPSY*AMAZE A MINUTE SCIENTIFACTS ~ BY ARNOLD*CEDAR SPRINGS
by Thornton W. BurgessPETER RABBIT WATCHES BUSY BEE

"Buzz-z, buzz-z!" was all the reply he got as Busy Bee hurried to another flower.

"I shouldn't think there would be any fun in working all the time," said Peter. "Tell me, Busy Bee, is it true that you do work all the time?"

"Buzz-z, buzz-z!" was all the reply Peter got.

Then Peter started in to count the flowers that Busy visited, but she went from flower to flower so fast that he soon grew tired of that.

Then while he was looking somewhere else for a minute she disappeared.

Peter was sure that he had his head turned only a wee little minute, but when he looked for her she was nowhere to be seen. He didn't know just what to do. To tell the truth, he felt rather foolish.

Finally he decided that as long as he was in the sweet clover patch he might as well fill his stomach and straightforward began to eat. He had almost forgotten about Busy Bee when, as he started to nibble a clover blossom, there was a sharp "Buzz-z, buzz-z!" close to one of his long ears. Busy Bee was back again, and Peter didn't feel just quite blushing. No, sir, in direct.

He left it to Busy because she seemed to want it and he knew it was best to let Busy have what she wanted.

T & S SERVICE—WNU SERVICE.

Good morning, Busy Bee," said Peter politely.

cared to about the sharp little fangs they carried. But though he had known them so long he really knew very little about them. He knew that Bumble was always rumbling and grumbling and making a great fuss about everything that he did, and was very proud of his handsome black and yellow suit, but he suspected that Bumble did a whole lot of pretending and really wasn't such a hard worker after all. He knew that Busy Bee always seemed in a hurry, didn't seem to mind in the least that she was very plainly dressed, and when she was busiest always seemed happier. Anyway, she did a great deal of humming, then. And this was all that Peter knew about Bumble and Busy Bee.

The more Peter thought about what Bumble had said to him the more he wondered if it was true that Busy Bee was such a hard worker, and at last he made up his mind to find out. The best thing to do was to find Busy herself. Peter remembered what he had learned when he was hunting for Bumble and wasted no time looking for the brightest flowers, but went straight to the sweetest flowers, which happened to be in his sweet clover patch. There he found Busy and she seemed to be very hard at work taking something from the heart of each flower she visited.

"Good morning, Busy Bee," said Peter politely.

"Morning, Buzz-z, buzz-z! Too much to do to talk. Buzz-z, buzz-z, buzz-z!" replied Busy Bee, flying to the next flower.

Peter followed. "What do you work so hard for?" he asked.

Betty Furness of the films wears a black robe wool suit with interesting glove stitching. The slim skirt is topped with a hip-length collarless jacket, softened at the neckline by a white waffle crepe scarf. The hat is of black velvet with a ribbon tie under the chin. Flowing veil and black suede accessories complete the costume.

Rugs, Draperies For Sunlit RoomBY BETTY WELLS

"This will be the first time I've bought everything new and I'm worried to death for fear I'll make mistakes," writes M. F. "I enclose a diagram of the living room and a sample of wall paper. In nice weather the sun is in the room all day so I think reds would seem too warm. Since the walls are in this tan paper with a little dull green in it, I want a friendly color for contrast and was thinking of getting an olive green broadloom rug (size 12 by 15). Would this do? What then for draperies? Must they be solid because walls are figured, or should I reverse the colors, or should I change the colors, using a fabric with a green ground and brown figures or leaves? If the upholstered furniture were any other color besides brown or green, would I have too many colors in the one room? Would it be all right to have a contrasting color for the smaller rug on the sun porch or should that be the same as in the living room? Also would you treat all those windows in the porch separately or would that look overstuffed? There is a space of just six inches between each window. I will be so grateful for any help you can give me."

We would like very much your idea of dull green broadloom for the floor. For draperies, though, we'd be inclined to favor a plain fabric of about the same tone of warm tan as the ground color in your wall paper.

Something for EverybodySEW-YOUR-OWN

spells economy and a better wardrobe for all the family, as these patterns indicate. You can sew at home during brisk winter days and have a new dress for all the family in no time at all and at very little expense. When you sew, you spend only a fraction of what you would usually pay for dresses of this character. Enjoy the family's enthusiasm, and you can make winter days cheery for all of you by planning something new to wear.

No other cough drop offers you the extra benefit that Smith Brothers Cough Drops (two kinds...Black or Menthol, 3¢) give you—Smith Bros. Cough Drops are the only drops containing VITAMIN A. This is the vitamin that raises the resistance of the mucous membranes of the nose and throat to cold and cough infections.

"FIVE Minus TWO Leaves FOUR"

WRONG? Well, yes—and no. The arithmetic of your school days taught that "If Mary had five dollars and spent two..." three dollars remained.

But that is mathematics—not shopping! In managing a home, regarding a limited family income, we've simply got to do better than Mary did. We must sharpen our buying wits...ascertain where the dollars of extra value lurk...take five dollars to town and get much more for the money spent.

Fortunately, there are ever-willing guides right at hand—the advertisements in this newspaper. Advertised merchandise is often exceptional value merchandise. It makes dollars STRETCH.

STAR DUST

Movie • Radio

By VIRGINIA VALE

JAMES CAGNEY has patched up his quarrel with Warner Brothers and Margaret Sullavan has made peace with the Universal company, which is good news to all the admirers who have missed them. Cagney will be rewarded with the very best story. Warners own, the great New York stage hit "Boy Meets Girl."

It is a rollicking story about two loony Hollywood scenario writers, and if all of Cagney's requests are granted, he will have Pat O'Brien playing his partner in foolish antics.

Miss Sullavan will play in "The Road to Reno." That leaves Jean Arthur the only major attraction who is still fighting with her company, Columbia, and staying off the screen in revolt.

However, Ann Sothern has parted company with RKO and Barbara Stanwyck is suspended from the pay roll because they refused to play in a picture called "Distant Fields."

Felix Knight, who sang recently on the Metropolitan auditions, is being hailed as the greatest discovery of the year, but Hollywood claims that they discovered him some two years ago. He sang the juvenile lead in "Babes in Toyland," the Hal Reach film, and has sung in operas in the Hollywood Bowl. Motion picture fans will be interested to know that this thrilling young tenor was recently married to the daughter of Alice Joyce.

"It's All Yours," the new Columbia film starring Madeleine Carroll and Francis Lederer, turns out to be all Mischa Auer's. Beauty and romantic interest just cannot compete with the utter nonsense that this tragic-faced Russian puts over so hilariously. Off screen Mischa Auer is entertaining too, but what most impresses one on meeting him is his deep gratitude to the United States of which he is now a naturalized citizen.

Any one of a dozen voices that you hear on "Grand Central," "The Goldbergs" or "True Story" or innumerable other radio hours is apt to be a youth named Lawson Zerbe who comes from the University of California. He is known affectionately as radio's one-man stock company. Recently when he was scheduled to play six roles on one dramatic hour, he was delayed at another studio and when he finally arrived just in the nick of time, the frantic director had sent out for six well-known actors to replace him.

John Barrymore had great fun on his vacation in New York. Knowing that he was going to portray an elderly and somewhat acid society reporter in his next Paramount picture, "Cafe Society," he did the fashionable night clubs and watched the jewelled set at play.

Joe Penner is the radio favorite of 22,000 boys and girls between the ages of six and sixteen. Every year a survey is conducted by the Boys' Athletic League among children in playgrounds, vacation camps, and work agencies to learn their preferences in sports, books, movies, radio programs, foods and hobbies which is used as a guide for educators in planning their diversions. Eddie Cantor, The Lone Ranger, and Jack Benny were runners-up in the youngsters' election of radio favorites. Buck Jones proved to be the boys' favorite motion picture star, while Shirley Temple led in the girls' division.

ODDS AND ENDS—Clark Gable will portray a ne'er-do-well cameraman in "Too Hot to Handle" . . . Fibber McGee and Molly have been engaged for another Paramount picture . . . Janet Gaynor in "The Star" will play the role that Lillian Gish is playing on the stage. Lillian is favorite motion-picture star when she was young . . . Adelene Whelan, who was a manicurist before she became a movie star, will play the lead in "Kidnapped" . . . a long period of training at the studio came between the two careers . . . A practical joker put a sign on Kay Francis' lawn that read "Open for Inspection—Public Welcome." Kay claimed that this drew her biggest audience . . . George Reggards passed at her parties for the best concoctions turned out at the soda fountain recently installed in her home . . . Joe E. Brown was the first Hollywood film star to put in a soda fountain at home, but Joe has flocks of children in his family to play soda jerks every day, so doesn't have to invite guests.

Lesson for February 6

CHALLENGING THE SOCIAL ORDER

LESSON TEXT—Mark 2:13-22. GOLDEN RULE—"Love your neighbor as yourself." To call the righteous, but sinners—Mark 2:15.

PRIMARY TOPIC—When Jesus Had Dined With Matthew.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Helping Being Friendly.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Crusading for a Christian Society.

SO UNBECOMING!

It was in the middle of the hottest of hot summers, and the temperature was round about the 100-in-the-shade mark. Along the street came a man wearing a heavy overcoat, with the collar turned up round his ears.

A well-meaning old lady, filled with curiosity, stopped the man. "Why in the world," she demanded, "are you wearing a heavy blue overcoat on a day like this?" The man smiled and then answered, confidentially: "Because, madam, brown doesn't suit me at all."—Stray Stories Magazine.

OLD, OLD STORY

"I wonder what that noise was in the hall last night?" "I guess it was Tom breaking his water wagon resolutions again."

Matchless
It was a dark and stormy night when the weary husband returned home.

"I've been to every shop in town, and they can't match that bit of ribbon for you anywhere, dear," he said to his wife.

"Splendid!" she cried. "I just wanted to make sure that it really was unique."—Stray Stories Magazine.

Worse and More of It
"What in the world are you doing around our here at this hour of the night in a dazed condition, bearing the signs of a vigorous quarrel, even blackened eye?

Come on, old chap, let me take you home to your wife."

"But you don't understand. That's where I got it."—Philadelphia Bulletin.

Look!
"Better keep your eyes open in New York," cautioned Stew Pudd, the office cut-up, as the boss departed for the big city.

"Why?" the boss wanted to know. "Because," cracked Stew, "everybody would think you were crazy if you went around with them closed."—Providence Journal.

Needed the Money
Judge—Why did you commit a second theft after you had been acquitted of the first?

Prisoner—I had to pay my lawyer.—Stray Stories Magazine.

NO BARBER BILL

"Say, Jim, don't you never shave?" "Now, yes, let me whiskers freeze, den knock 'em off."

Grammatical Pants
Schoolmaster—Now I want you to tell me which of these words are singular and which are plural. Tomkins, you take the first. "Trousers."

Tomkins (after deliberation)—Singular at the top and plural low-down, sir.

Her Idea of Happiness
Mrs. Smith—Are you happy, Mrs. Dasher?

Mrs. Dasher—There ain't no such thing as happiness so we just learn to be happy without it. Grit.

Guess Again
A doctor told his patient that there was nothing really the matter with him. "All you require is more outdoor life; walk two or three miles regularly every day; what's your business?"

"I'm a letter-carrier, Doc."

Opportunity Missed

"Puh!" "What now?" "Why didn't Noah swear both sins when he had such a good chance?"—Stray Stories Magazine.

Constant Joy
"Rejoice evermore," says the apostle; let your joy be constant and durable.

Baked Peaches for Garnish or Dessert

CANNED peach halves baked in their own syrup with the addition of sugar, butter and a suspicion of cinnamon make an ideal fruit to feature with the meat course or they are equally delicious to have for dessert. Serve them hot or cold but hot fruit during the winter months is especially good.

Baked Peaches

1 No. 2½ can peach halves 3 tablespoons butter
½ cup brown sugar Cinnamon

Pour the peaches and the syrup into a shallow pan, a cake pan is convenient to use. Turn the peach halves so the cut side is up.

Sprinkle the sugar over the peaches, place a piece of butter in each peach where the pit was removed and sprinkle them over so lightly with cinnamon. Bake in an oven (450 degrees) until the sugar on the edges of the peach begins to brown, or about 30 minutes. If you wish a more pronounced brown edge, set the pan of peaches under the broiler for a few minutes.

Canned peach halves are delicious prepared in this same manner.

If the fruit is served as a dessert, plain cream is nice to serve with it.

MARJORIE H. BLACK.

Preparing Oysters.—A little baking powder added to the flour in which oysters are rolled before frying will make oysters light and fluffy.

To Bake Potatoes

Potatoes will bake more quickly if cut in halves and the skin is removed. Melt a little butter in a baking pan, place halved potatoes cut side down in it and bake.

Hanging Out Clothes

Before hanging clothes on the line in freezing weather, put pins on clothes in the house, then snap on line with double clothes pins.

Ironing Linens

When ironing curtains always iron them on the wrong side. Ironing them on the right side makes them look faded.

Not Cakes

One-half cup of butter, three-quarter cup sugar, one-third cup milk, two eggs, one and one-third cups flour, two teaspoons baking powder, one-half teaspoon salt, one cup almonds, blanched and cut in pieces. Cream butter, add sugar and continue beating. Add well beaten yolks and then milk, sifted dry ingredients and nuts alternately. Fold in stiff beaten whites. Bake in individual tins 20 minutes in a hot oven. Plain icing, sugar or nuts can finish off cup cakes with the proper touch.

Judging Cod

Cod should be judged by the redness of the gills, the whiteness, stiffness and firmness of the flesh, and the clear freshness of the eyes. These are big infallible proofs of its being good. The whole fish should be thick and firm.
